Board Grants Leave-Of-Absence To Hunter

Regents Create Two Departments, Appoint Interim And Acting Deans

Two new departments were created, a leave-of-absence was granted to a dean, and an interim and acting dean were appointed at Saturday's Murray State University Board of Regents meeting.

The department of geosciences will be formed through the merger of the department of geography and the division of geology. The department will be included in the College of Environmental Sciences.

The department of computer science will be formed by coordinating computer-related offerings presently available in three other departments — engineering technology, management, and physics and computer science. It has not yet been decided what college the computer science department will be a part of.

Both departmental creations will be effective no later than July 1, 1980.

President Constantine W. Curris said in making the recommendation, "The new department of geosciences will permit the university to better coordinate and strengthen programs of study in earth resources, to take initiatives in energy studies and to enhance the utilization of our recently established Mid-American Remote Sensing Center."

Greater coordination of curricular offerings, improved utilization of computer hardware, and improved visibility and direction for the field will be provided with the creation of the department of computer science, according to Curris.

A public service leave-of-absence was granted to Dr. Donald B. Hunter, dean of the College of Human Development and Learning, from Jan. 15 to Dec. 31, 1980. Hunter will serve as associate superintendent of public instruction in the Kentucky Department of Education.

Dr. Hugh A. Noffsinger, presently a professor of educational administration and coordinator of graduate studies in the College of Human Development and Learning, will serve as interim dean until Hunter returns.

Noffsinger, a native of Bremen in Muhlenberg County, joined the Murray State faculty in 1964. He was named chairman of the department of school administration and supervision in 1968 and served six years in that capacity before becoming graduate coordinator.

The interim dean earned the A.B. and M.A. degrees at Western Kentucky University and the Ed.D. degree at Indiana University. He also did graduate work at George Peabody College.

Hunter, who has been a dean at MSU since 1965, joined the Murray State faculty in 1967. He has also served as a classroom teacher, dean of admissions and registrar, and as a departmental chairman.

The new state official, a native Mississippian, earned both the B.S. and M.A. degrees at the University of Southern Mississippi and the Ed.D. degree at Indiana University.

Dr. Donald E. Jones was appointed as acting dean of the College of Creative Expression in addition to his regular duties as dean of extended education and as an assistant to the vice president for academic programs.

A native of Henderson, Jones joined the faculty at Murray State in 1966 as director of student teaching. He became chairman of the department of educational services two years later.

Of Releasing Hostages For Holidays

Iranian Students Deny Reports

By ALEXANDER G. HIGGINS

Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Militant students occupying the U.S. Embassy denied today that any of the 50 Americans they hold would be released by Christmas and said all hostages would be tried as spies.

Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh told foreign reporters Sunday evening that some of the hostages "possibly" would be released before Christmas.

"No no, they are not going to be released," a student spokesman told The Associated Press. He said the embassy occupiers would leave the setting of a trial date up to the Iranian people. "The Iranian people will decide that," he did not elaborate.

Ghotbzadeh said the Iranian authorities have not begun considering a date for a hostage trial, but that they are putting together an international "grand jury" to investigate U.S. links with the former shah's regime, beginning Jan. 1 or 2. The proceedings would take about two weeks, he said, and hostages might appear as witnesses, "but not as the accused."

He had said before that the hostages would not be tried until the grand jury reported and its findings could be evaluated.

But the students, who insist the shah be returned to Iran for trial, have contradicted or overruled Ghotbzadeh several times on the status of American diplomats held in Iran.

Tehran Radio today quoted Ghotbzadeh as saying invitations to join the "grand jury" are being extended to Nobel Peace Prize-winning Irish statesman Sean MacBride and Louis-Edmond Pettiti, president of both the Paris Bar Association and the International Organization of Catholic Jurists. Both men said today that they had not received invitations.

Told of the radio report, MacBride, in Dublin, said his participation would depend on the inquiry's terms of reference, its purpose and who else was involved.

Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh has said the government was going ahead with plans for an international "grand jury" to investigate "crimes" of the United States and the deposed shah, although the former monarch's departure from the United States has opened the door to a resolution of the U.S.-Iranian crisis.

He also said some of the 50 American hostages held in the occupied U.S. Embassy since Nov. 4 might be "DICKENS' CHRISTMAS" — Rick Kupchella, Terry Burke and Dr. David Roos, left to right, are shown as they try on costumes for their roles as Charles Dickens' characters in Murray's first community presentation of a "Dickens' Christmas." The celebration will be held in Press Alley between 4th and 5th Streets north of the court square from 5 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 20, and Friday, Dec. 21, and from 1 to 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 22. A variety of entertainment will be offered each night. There is no admission charge for the event, and families are invited to attend.

LIBRARY DECORATIONS—The meeting room of the Calloway County Public Library has been transformed into a Christmas wonderland using the theme of "Christmas Card Town." Above, one corner of the room has become an elves' workshop featuring Santa's elves at work. Below, Jane Bailey and Nita Baugh, coordinators for the library's outreach program who have decorated the room, read a Christmas story to Keisa Bennett by the fireplace and Christmas tree. The meeting room will be open during regular library hours, and refreshments will be served. Santa Claus will attend both story hours at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 19. Parents are welcome to bring their cameras.

Dr. Elder Is Speaker For UDC Meeting

The J. N. Williams Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy recently met at the home of Dr. Mildred Hatcher, 1305 Olive Boulevard, with the president, Mrs. Martha Carter, presiding.

Mrs. John J. Livesay, program chairman, introduced Dr. Harvey Elder, professor of mathematics, Murray State University, as the guest speaker.

Using the topic, "Living Beyond Self," Dr. Elder emphasized the fact that the young men who served and died in the War Between the States did so at a tremendous cost. "But they gave their lives for the cause they believed in," he said.

Dr. Elder questioned whether persons of today so strongly believe in some cause that they would be willing to die for that cause. After emphasizing the importance of values, he affirmed that the only way to have abundant living is by rendering service to others, not by seeking one's own goals as ends in themselves.

During the short business meeting, Mrs. Livesay resigned as vice president and Mrs. Inez Claxton was elected as her replacement.

The group signed cards to be sent to Miss Maude Nance, Mrs. E. W. Riley, and Mrs. Clifford Melugin who are ill.

Dr. Hatcher, assisted by her sister, Dr. Halene H. Visser, served refreshments. Others present, not previously mentioned, were Mrs. William Major, Mrs. J. O. Chambers, Mrs. Hess Crossland, Mrs. N. A. Ezell, Mrs. Fred Gingles, Mrs. Douglas Shoemaker, Mrs. Melvin Casey, Mrs. Charles Stubblefield, Mrs. Leonard Vaughn, and Mrs. Timothy Graves.

Should We Harbor The Boat People?

MY DEAR AUNT ABBY: Since its onset I have been following the debate in your column originated by AMERICA FIRST, who objected to Americans taking in the boat people. After watching an NBC news report on the subject, I feel I must speak my piece.

History shows that immigrants have never been welcomed by the American masses. Any success these "huddled masses" enjoyed was the product of their own hard labor, often conquering insurmountable obstacles every step of the way. But what outstanding contributions these people made to the American lifestyle that AMERICA FIRST now enjoys?

Many of today's enterprises that made America what it is came from the likes of Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, Albert Einstein and, may I say, my own grandfather—and your father-in-law—Jay Phillips. All were immigrants, as are the ancestors of most of us, probably including AMERICA FIRST. Indeed, weren't the settlers who came aboard the Mayflower much boat people as the millions fleeing Southeast Asia today?

It is, as you well know, due to America opening its doors to immigrants that I am able to sit here at college and write this letter. Why shouldn't the Vietnamese, Thai, Cambodians and Chinese have the same chance our family had? Who can tell what contributions these new immigrants will make to America in the years to come? At least they deserve a chance.

If America is to close its gates, if Americans are to shun the "homeless tempest tossed," so poignantly described by Emma Lazarus, then we should feel compelled to take the monument to our past generosity, the Statue of Liberty, and tow it out to sea. We don't deserve it!

Love, always,
YOUR NEPHEW, ERIK BERNSTEIN
BOULDER, COLO.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died last March. There are many people who will not have knowledge of this—most of them are past business associates and folks that I barely know—but we have always exchanged cards each Christmas. I have ordered cards with only my name on them, and plan to remember everyone on our list, at least this first year.

Is there a tasteful way to advise them that my husband has died? I certainly don't want to write it on my Christmas card, and yet when they receive a card with only MY name on it they will wonder what happened to George. Some might even think that we are separated or divorced. Please advise me.

NEW WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: It would save a lot of speculation if you included a brief note with your Christmas cards simply stating that George died last March.

DEAR ABBY: For the past year, my boyfriend (I'll call him Sid) has been receiving erotic (and sometimes obscene) correspondence at his office. Nothing is ever signed. This is supposedly leading up to a rendezvous the likes of which he's never dreamed possible!

Well, surprise! We just discovered through handwriting analysis that this garbage is being sent by a girl we both know. She is the girlfriend of one of Sid's best friends. Here's the puzzle: She doesn't seem to be anything like the obviously sick person who is sending this stuff.

After discussing it, Sid and I have decided to let the matter drop without confronting either Sid's friend or the girl. Seeing them socially as we do, we are afraid if we let on that we know, our relationship might become strained and difficult.

We are all around 30, so it can't be just a childish prank. I am certainly not laughing! What do you think should be done?

Guess what you're getting for Christmas.

When the paper and ribbon covers the floor around the tree and the big emotional let down hits you, then what did you really get for Christmas? You shopped until your feet ached, you cut your finger while wrapping gifts, you stayed up too late and got up too early to unwrap a tie you'll never wear, a blouse that won't fit and a toy that's already broken. What did you really get for Christmas?

Well, maybe you shopped in the wrong place. A big supply of love, hope and faith are available at the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). The service is beautiful and satisfaction is guaranteed. Everyone can afford it and those who receive it don't want to return it. It can be used everyday and improves with time.

And we're open on Sundays.

THE ACES[®] IRA G. CORN, JR.

"Sometimes the best gain is to lose." — George Merbert.

West gained nothing in his defense of today's ambitious slam. First he failed his test on opening lead and, later, he was too quick to take a trick he didn't need.

South bid his cards more than once. There was no question that he had strength for a strong two bid, but the push to slam was most optimistic.

West made his first mistake by leading a spade. Against a small slam, it's usually best to attack and West would have had an easier time had he led from one of his kings. On the other hand, West's lead was excusable since South's bidding implied a much stronger hand, which would leave very little for East.

Declarer won the spade ace and quickly saw there was no legitimate play. Not only did he have to pick up a stray trump queen, there were too unavoidable losers in the minors. So to cloud the issue as much as possible, declarer led a spade to dummy's king at trick two. Next came a third spade which declarer ruffed with the jack!

West went for the bait and took his queen and the defensive hopes collapsed. Too late now, West led a diamond won by declarer's ace and the ace and another heart to dummy's nine picked up the trumps. Dummy's good spades took care of the minor suit losers and the unmakeable slam was tucked away.

West should have refused to overruff the third spade. He should have reasoned that declarer would not risk

Best Solution Is To Work Together

FRANKFORT — Gov. John Young Brown Jr. in his inaugural address challenged the people of Kentucky "to work together to best solve our problems and develop our vast potential."

He also challenged state employees to be proud to serve their state, "to understand the responsibility - to serve the people of Kentucky in their best interests - and to give a full and committed day's work for every day's pay."

In his next few short sentences he issued a warning to special favor and money seekers that state government "will not be a handout agency, but those who work will earn their pay - those who participate will do their part."

He prefaced this warning with, "Government at all levels has come under a great deal of scorn in the past decade. It has been more an attitude on the part of many people - 'What can I get from it? - What can it do for me?'"

Brown earlier said he "will attempt to be a governor with fiscal restraint. I do not believe that bigger government means better government. I do not believe that more spending renders better service."

"A government big enough to give you everything you want is big enough to take everything you have."

"This is the platform I ran on and I stand on it throughout my administration."

In his campaign for governor, Brown ran against the political currents. He shunned the political machines and combines and made no promises to individuals or specific groups for favors.

Yet, he captured the favors of the voters and won with wide margins in both the primary and general elections. From this standpoint, he is the freest governor in recent memory. He assumed office under the most favorable conditions to set a new trend in efficient and honest state government to deliver maximum services to the people at the least cost.

However, there is danger in the present public attitude. The greatest danger Gov. Brown faces is that the people may expect too much from him and his administration. The least hint of scandal or overt financial favoritism to friends or cronies will draw unbridled wrath from a large segment of electorate.

There is an old story of a father giving advice to wooing a maiden for her hand, "Don't overpromise yourself." Some people may take his clean campaign as an overpromise, but people should be careful in such an assessment.

He issued his warnings in his inaugural address as set forth above.

State government is a very complex business with more than 33,000 employees. It is necessary that any governor must delegate authority to trusted employees, else he cannot make the machine function properly.

We all know that people make mistakes and we all know there is an urge in a very few to take short cuts or to want to make a fast dollar. We can expect our new governor to be faced with such a situation sometime before his administration ends, and he must be prepared to handle it.

Most of all, he must keep a very watchful eye upon his friends. The old axiom is to beware of your friends. Your enemies will take care of themselves.

Progress will be made if the people of Kentucky dedicate themselves to answering the challenges issued by Gov. Brown.

HEARTLINE: How much of my earnings will be subject to the Social Security tax? As I understand it, the amount will change in January 1980. - K.M.

Yes, the amount of earnings subject to Social Security tax will be raised in January 1980 from $22,900 to $25,900. According to Social Security sources, the change in the tax base will mean that workers earning above $22,900 will have greater protection because a larger amount of their earnings will be credited toward benefits than before. This will mean higher benefits for them and their families in the event of retirement, disability or death than would have been possible with the increase.

For persons who are on Social Security or who will be receiving benefits soon, we have available our guide to Social Security. This book covers all the different Social Security benefits available, the requirements for each, allowed earnings limits, all the quirks and problems that could arise with your benefits and what to do about them. To order, send $2.00 to Heartline's Guide to Social Security, P. O. Box 11934, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

HEARTLINE: I have recently retired and my wife and I are seriously considering moving to Florida or to the Southwest. We intend to sell our home and purchase a mobile home, maybe one of those multisection mobile homes. Can you tell me the average price of that type of mobile home? - F. G.

According to the MHI (Manufactured Housing Institute), the average sales price, including furnishings and appliances, of a new mobile-manufactured home placed on a permanent site is $16,900 (based on the second quarter of 1979). The average price of a new mobile-manufactured home in 1978 was $15,925.

MHI reported that the price increase is due primarily to a market shift toward larger, more conventional-looking, multisectional mobile-manufactured homes that average $21,000.

MHI also cited the following regional average sales prices of new mobile-manufactured homes: $15,000 in the Northeast; $15,300 in the North Central area; $15,400 in the South; and $21,800 in the West.

The multisectional mobile-manufactured homes are predominately in the Western and Southern areas of the U.S.

If you would like more information, write to Manufactured Housing Institute, 1745 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Suite 511, Arlington, Va. 22202.

HEARTLINE: I am drawing Social Security retirement benefits and still work part time. This past year, I had to turn down two raises that were offered to me to keep from losing my Social Security. Is there going to be an increase in the allowed earnings limitations under Social Security in 1980? - P.R.

The annual amount that Social Security beneficiaries may earn without losing any benefits will increase from $4,500 to $5,000 for those aged 65-71, and from $3,480 to $3,720 for those under age 65. Benefits are reduced $1 for every $2 of earnings exceeding these ceilings. Social Security beneficiaries age 72 and older may earn any amount and still receive their full Social Security benefits.

Holiday Has Santa, High Interest Rates

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Kaufman and his associates are circulating the most dismal Christmas message that borrowers could expect, a reminder that interest rates are going into still higher orbit.

Lenders will contest this interpretation, and quite logically. For them, high interest rates mean good money. But lenders are growing less common; borrowers are the majority today, and they are devastated.

Devastated because Henry Kaufman, general partner in Salomon Brothers, the securities firm, is considered a seer about interest rates. His accuracy might not be perfect, but his reputation seems almost to be.

That reputation compels major market forces to heed his message, even though it directly contradicts the downward trend of rates and the considered analyses of dozens of other interest rate forecasters.

The consensus forecast in the past few weeks has been for a gradual decline through 1980, and many thought the process had already begun. The prime lending rate, 15 1/2 percent in November, is now down to 15 1/4.

Kaufman isn't swayed. He says that you consider the possibility of 16 percent or 17 percent prime, which in theory and probably in myth is the best rate that big city banks give to their best customers.

A quick file search confirms that Kaufman understands his subject. A year or so ago, for example, he forecast a 13 percent prime, an unprecedented level and, some thought, an unbelievable forecast.

His new forecast has other economists aghast once again. Postwar highs will be established "for almost all interest rates somewhat before midyear," he and associates, James McKeon and David Foster, announced.

They explained that "the combination of economic contraction and accelerating inflation will not, at least at first, reduce upward pressures on interest rates."

Under such circumstances, they continued, "credit demands do not quickly abate; rather the need to finance inventories, receivables and even consumption rises."

Firms such as Salomon Brothers and economists such as Kaufman tend to aim their remarks at big borrowers and lenders, at government officials and corporation chairmen, because they make up its market. But what happens in these markets often is affected by what consumers do.

Kaufman and his associates believe the consumer will be one of the keys to understanding the 1980 economy.

If a predicted rise in unemployment lags behind the economic slowdown, consumption will remain strong well into the year, they say. That suggests consumers will be a big force behind prices and loan rates.

It isn't a merry message, but isn't Christmas as much a search for truth as for merriment?

The Story Of Calloway County 1822-1976

By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1978

Politicians were of the same stripe as they are today, claiming personal credit for the slightest morsel of expenditures being cast over the impoverished land. Foremost in the band proselyting the primrose path of perpetual prosperity naturally fell to the lot of First District Congressman Noble Gregory with Sen. Alben Barkley more secure in the propaganda seat. But to Senators Norris and McKellar must be given praise for conceiving of the TVA system.

From a limestone outcropping in the southeast portion of the county, the state installed a lime crusher in 1937 with CCC members manning the unit to supply the much needed lime for Calloway farms. Although thousands of tons of lime were mined at the pit, ultimately the project dismantled for lack of limestone and competition from more efficient private operations in nearby counties.

Dr. E. B. Houston, another of the county's distinguished physicians and co-owner of the Keys-Houston Clinic, died on May 9, 1937, at the age of 56 years. His kindly dispensation, solid citizenry, and distinctive capacity as a practitioner had endeared him to thousands of his fellow citizens.

With the repeal of the Volstead Act by the U. S. Congress, the consumption of spirits of less than 3 per cent alcoholic content resumed in Calloway County. With the sale of beer, citizens of the county rebelled and voted against the sale in an election held June 26, 1937.

With the increasing efforts of the federal government to minimize the inequities in the economic structure to alleviate the tragedy of the Great Depression, Works Progress Administration expended $70,000 in Calloway County during the year, the greater part being used in county road and city street construction. Social Security was dispensing benefits to 2,125 old age persons in Calloway by April 1, 1937.

Other events of more than passing notice included the burning of the wood stove mill on Aug. 5, 1937, believed to have been the work of arsonists. An outbreak of smallpox erupted during the year, first for over two years, when two persons became ill from the disease. However, new methods of treatment and prevention of contagious diseases marked the beginning of the end for smallpox in Calloway County, an accomplishment of great significance for our early people had been plagued with outbreaks since its founding.

'Bottlemania Slips Into English Usage

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A new word — "bottlemania" — slipped into the English language in the late 1960s, and Mike Wayne may have helped to create it.

He developed and distributed more decanters than anyone else in the industry and isn't afraid to spend money on an idea.

He recently paid $1 million for the reproduction rights to the painting on one of his latest decanters.

"I'd guess there are more than half a million collectors in the United States today," Wayne said. "They have a lot to choose from. A current catalog lists more than 2,300 different bottles but over the years, I'd bet there have been 4,000 produced to represent approximately 400 brands of liquor."

They come in different shapes and sizes, immortalizing everything from slot machines, horse shoes and the Kentucky Derby to King Tut's death mask. All have one thing in common: they contain one-fifth of a fine bourbon.

Some hobbyists believe the attraction is in the bottle itself and not the whiskey; others claim that the value of the container increases if the federal tax stamp remains unbroken over the cork.

"Prices can range as high as $3,000," said Wayne, recalling that the Hopi Indian Kachina Doll which he marketed started out at $25 and soared to $500 five days later. Television and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., contributed to the sudden rise in value.

"I asked the senator to break the mold and he flew into Phoenix for the ceremony held in front of his home. The TV cameras recorded the event and, afterwards, everybody wanted to get their hands on the dolls."

Wayne, who started in the whiskey business in 1933, has his headquarters in Bardstown, where the five newest decanters are coming off the assembly line. They look like framed oil paintings.

Four of the bottles carry reproductions of Norman Rockwell's work while the fifth is Everett Kinstler's portrait of the legendary actor John Wayne.

"We're not related but I knew him. My home in Beverly Hills is just four blocks from his office. I put $1 million up front for the rights to the painting." He said the Kinstler and Rockwell originals were shipped to Germany, where a special process was used to transfer the paintings to ceramics.

The decanters were then fired at 1,400 degrees at the plant in Mayfield which also added 23 karat gold to the framed portion.

The whiskey came from a Bardstown distillery (Heaven Hill) which also handled the shipping to 73 outlets in 46 states. "We hope to be doing business in the other four states soon," said Wayne.

To him, a ceramic decanter is more than a liquor bottle.

"It's a piece of art, something that should last a thousand years if handled properly."

Opinions Support President Concerning Iranian Situation

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans' opinions of Jimmy Carter and Edward M. Kennedy have flipflopped in recent weeks largely because the public believes Carter has handled the Iranian crisis well and Kennedy has reacted to it poorly, an Associated Press-NBC News poll shows.

The changes in public opinion run deeper than just the Iranian crisis. Carter seems to be dispelling some of the questions in the public mind about his competence, while Kennedy has apparently raised some doubts about his own abilities.

These major swings in public opinion come as the battle for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination between Carter, Kennedy and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. heats up. The Gallup Poll now shows Carter leading Kennedy and Brown among Democrats in a mythical national primary matchup, a reversal from the 2-to-1 margin Kennedy has enjoyed for months over Carter. Despite the overall switch of opinion, the AP-NBC News poll taken last Tuesday and Wednesday still shows Carter has weaknesses in the public eye, while Kennedy retains substantial strengths.

The clearest contrast in the public rating of the two men comes on Iran.

By a 69-21 margin, the public approves of Carter's actions regarding the continued captivity of 50 Americans in Iran.

But by a 12-56 edge, Americans say Kennedy should not have spoken out on the Iranian crisis as he did.

On Carter, 10 percent were not sure or were uninformed, while 27 percent said they had not heard of Kennedy's statements and 5 percent of the 1,595 adults interviewed across the country by telephone were unsure.

On Dec. 2, Kennedy said in an interview with a San Francisco television station that the Shah of Iran "ran one of the most violent regimes in the history of mankind" and that he had come to this country "with his umpteen billion dollars that he'd stolen from Iran."

The Massachusetts senator has been criticized for shifting attention from the plight of the hostages and for appearing to undermine Carter's efforts to get the hostages freed.

On a number of major facets of each man's image, Carter has surged past Kennedy among Democrats.

For example, 70 percent of the Democrats polled now give Carter a generally favorable rating overall, while 23 percent give him an unfavorable rating. That's up 14 points from the 56-33 rating found by the October AP-NBC News poll.

By contrast, Kennedy had a 68-19 edge in favorable ratings among Democrats in October. But now that has slumped to a 43-35 mark. In each case, the remainder were undecided.

Racers Blow 21-Point Lead But Still Win

Towson Comeback Falls Short

"I thought for a minute we were in the tank," Murray State head coach Ron Greene said following the Racers' 70-59 win over Towson State here Saturday.

So did the sparse crowd estimated at 1,800 that saw Murray State up its season mark to 5-1 at Racer Arena.

The Racers took control early and mounted a 21-point, 43-22 lead by halftime behind a stingy defense and the shooting of Mont Sleet and Kenney Hammonds who combined for 21 points in the opening period.

But the second half saw Towson's Tigers outscoring Murray 22-6 in the first 11½ minutes, closing the gap to only 5 points, 49-44. It took five quick points on free throws by Gary Hooker, Glen Green and Sleet and a field goal by Green to boost the MSU lead back to 10 with 6:18 remaining to play, putting the game beyond the reach of the out-manned Towson team and dropping their season record to 2-3.

"We showed a great deal of immaturity," Greene said of his team, adding even that he "really wasn't extremely happy with the first half."

The Racers switched from a man-to-man defense to a 2-1-2 zone during Towson State's surge which helped to shut down the visitors' offensive drive.

Greene said he prefers to play the man-to-man defense to utilize his team's quickness to its fullest. One reason Murray's second-year coach gave for switching to the zone defense was that the Racers were in foul trouble. At the time, Kenney Hammonds, who fouled out later in the game, and Mont Sleet, both had four personals charged against them.

In analyzing his team's play, Greene said "I'd like to think three games in one week and final exams" had a detrimental effect on the Racers' mental alertness.

"We were not mentally sharp," Greene said.

Hooker led all scorers in the game with 17 points and also ripped off 20 rebounds, one-third of the Racers' total on the night. He was followed in the scoring column by Hammonds with 16, Sleet with 14 and Green, who came off the bench to add 10 markers and pull down 10 rebounds.

Leading the scoring for Towson State was Michael Sharpe with 13. The only other Tiger in double figures was Mike Lyles who scored 12 points.

The Racers hit a red-hot 57.6 percent (19-33) from the field in the first half but went ice-cold in the final period sinking only seven of 24 attempts (29.6 percent) for a 45.6 percent average for the night. Towson dropped only 21 of 78 from the field for 26.9 percent.

Murray sank 72 percent (18-25) of its free throw attempts and Towson hit 15 of 23 for 65.2 percent. Murray out-rebounded Towson 60-38.

The Racers' next game is this Thursday (Dec. 20) when they travel to Memphis to go up against the Memphis State Tigers (2-2) in the first leg of a two-game road trip. Following Thursday's game, Murray will head for Austin, Texas where they meet the University of Texas (4-1) in a Saturday night game.

After Saturday's contest the Racers will be idle until they host Missouri-St. Louis at Racer Arena on Jan. 3, 1980.

Denver, San Diego To Battle For Playoff Spots As NFL Regular Season Winds Down

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
It's Chicago at Philadelphia and...

And we'll find out the rest tonight when the Denver Broncos visit the San Diego Chargers with a National Football League division title at stake. The loser will wind up with the wild card and a trip to Houston. The winner will get the American Conference West title.

The Chicago Bears can thank their lucky stars — or, rather, the blue stars on the silver helmets of the Dallas Cowboys — that they're in the playoffs at all.

Thanks to the NFL's tiebreaking system to determine playoff teams, the Bears not only had to beat St.

Louis but had to win big, and needed some help from Dallas. They got it all.

First they routed the Cardinals 42-6 to wipe out Washington's points-scored, points-allowed edge, a 33-point differential. Then they watched the Cowboys beat the Redskins 35-34 in one of the most thrilling NFL games of recent years. Had Chicago scored one less touchdown against the Cards — in fact, one less touchdown the whole season — Washington would have gotten the second wild card and faced the Eagles next Sunday.

Dallas' Roger Staubach threw three touchdown passes, two of them — 26 yards to Ron Springs and 8 yards to Tony Hill — in the closing minutes to wipe out Washington's 34-21 lead and propel the Cowboys to the championship of the National Conference's East Division. Staubach's floater to Hill and Rafael Septien's tie-breaking extra point came with 39 seconds to play.

Two other division champions were crowned Sunday. The Pittsburgh Steelers, already guaranteed their eighth straight playoff appearance, locked up their sixth successive title in the AFC's Central Division by beating Buffalo 28-0. And in the NFC's Central Division, Tampa Bay's once-laughable Buccaneers shook off a "choke" collar, halted a three-game skid and, in a near-monsoon, beat Kansas City 3-0 to nail down first place.

Philadelphia, already assured of a playoff berth, defeated Houston 26-20. The Oilers will host the AFC wild-card game next Sunday at 3 p.m. CST. The Chicago-at-Philadelphia NFC wild-card affair is scheduled to kick off at 11:30 p.m. CST.

The Rams, NFC West champions, bid farewell to Los Angeles (they move to Anaheim next season) by losing 29-14 to New Orleans. Oakland and Cleveland, two other teams that nurtured slender AFC wild-card hopes, saw them dashed, with the Raiders losing to Seattle 29-24 and the Browns falling to Cincinnati 16-12.

Elsewhere, Atlanta beat San Francisco 31-21 with O.J. Simpson playing his final NFL game for the 49ers. New England defeated Minnesota 27-23 and Baltimore blasted the New York Giants 31-7. On Saturday, the New York Jets beat the AFC East champion Miami Dolphins 27-23 and the Green Bay Packers defeated Detroit 18-13. The Lions and 49ers finished tied for the worst record this year, 2-14, with Detroit getting the No. 1 pick in the college draft next April 29 because its opponents won fewer games than San Francisco's.

The usually placid Staubach had seen just about everything in his 11 years in the NFL — but nothing could match the Cowboys' game against Washington.

"We were out of it...then we were in it...then we were out of it...then we were in it. I've never played in a game like that before," said Staubach, who passed for 336 yards against the dazed Redskins. "I can't remember when I've ever gotten so excited in a football game. This beats them all."

The Redskins led 17-0 before Staubach brought the Cowboys back within three points just before halftime, one of the TDs coming on a 26-yard pass to Preston Pearson. "Roger was just great," said Coach Tom Landry. "He held us together when it looked like we were gone. We were fortunate to pull it out, but he's just the kind of guy who can do it. He's been doing it all his career."

Bears 42, Cardinals 6

"We had to go out and win by more than 33 and we did it. I never gave up because...I thought something good was going to happen," said Chicago Coach Neill Armstrong.

BOBBY DANIEL pulls down a rebound for Murray High in the consolation game of the CCHS Christmas Tournament Saturday.

Lowes Downs Murray High In Consolation Game

By STEVE BECKER
Sports Writer

The Livingston Central Cardinals scored the last six points of the game to edge Fulton City, 59-55, and capture the title in the Calloway County Holiday Tourney Saturday Night.

Livingston led by five at 47-42, heading into the final period. But the Bulldogs, led by Joe Warren's eight fourth quarter tallies, grabbed a 55-53 lead with just 2:23 left in the contest. The Cardinals Tommy Miller hit a lay-up seconds later to tie things at 55. Fulton then went into a ball-control offense, hoping for the easy hoop.

Its strategy back-fired when, with 59 seconds left, Livingston's Tommy Harmon stole a Bulldog pass. On the ensuing trip down the floor, Gary Blaine was fouled by a Fulton player. The Cardinal star hit both ends of the bonus to edge Livingston into a 57-55 lead. Warren missed a 19-foot jumper from the side on the next Bulldog possession and Blaine found David McCracken wide open for the clinching basket with 12 ticks left. Blaine flooded the baskets for 27 points to lead all scoring and clinch a place on anybody's all-tournament team.

In the consolation game, Murray High fell behind Lowes by 13 points midway through the third quarter and could never make up the difference as the Blue Devils copped the third place trophy 70-59. The Tigers erased the memory of Friday night's performance against Fulton by playing a much better game against Lowes.

Murray held early leads of 10-9 and 12-9 before baskets by Devils Mark Adams and Craig Burgess catapulted Lowes into 14-12 lead at the first stop. Bobby Daniel and Nick Swift both tossed in four first period markers apiece as the Tigers trailed by two at the break.

Lowes stretched its lead to six, 30-24, at the half, mainly on the shooting and play-making of guard Greg Wilkerson. Murray succeeded in shutting off the Devil star for the most part in the first half, but Wilkerson still managed to hand out six assists to pace Lowes to the intermission advantage.

game. We played much more up to potential tonight. I think we are coming along well and, if we continue to improve like we did this evening, we are going to end up with a real fine team."

Lowes, boosting its season slate to 7-4, was paced by a game high 19 points from Spicer. Wilkerson, Whitis, and Craig Burgess added 14, 12 and 10 tallies respectively as the Devils out-balanced the Tigers to the win.

Murray is idle until after the holidays, but the Tigers will not be taking much time off for the festivities.

"We are going to go at it hard and polish up some of our weak points," explained Miller. "We are still looking for the right combination and, by practicing hard during the holidays, we hope to come up with it by our next game," he added.

Murray will take on Mayfield in the first round off the Paducah Tilghman Christmas Tourney on December 27th in the next Tiger appearance.

Livingston Central and Fulton County put on a scoring show in the evening's second game. Led by Blaine's game high heroics and David Travelstead's 12 markers, the Cardinals led much of the way. Fulton finally scratched back late in the game to put the Livingston dominance in peril, but the well-disciplined Cardinal defense, paced by quicksilver guard Tommy Harmon, turned back the final Bulldog threat.

Joe Warren, with 20 points, and Darrell Holder with 18, provided a one-two scoring punch for the Bulldogs that nearly overcame the steady Livingston scoring pace. Gary White added 11 to the Fulton total as the Dogs slipped to 6-4 on the year. The Cardinals, after three straight victories in the Calloway tournament, take a 10-4 record, and the tournament championship trophy back home in preparation for the new year's schedule.

Eastern Coach Wanted To See If Lehigh Could Live Up To Reports

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Eastern Kentucky Coach Roy Kidd decided to see if Lehigh's defense could live up to its press clippings.

He got his answer — a resounding "no" — when Eastern Kentucky's ground-oriented offense chewed up the Lehigh 30-7 in Saturday's NCAA Division I-AA football championship game.

Eastern Kentucky, which finished the season 11-2, utilized the running of Dale Patton, Alvin Miller and Nick Yeast to turn the title game into a romp.

"I really didn't know if we could run against them, but I wanted to find out," said Kidd, whose offense showed little respect for the division's No. 2 defensive team. Eastern rolled up 289 yards on the ground, more than three times the 84.4 average that Lehigh had surrendered in 12 previous games.

While its offense played havoc with Lehigh's defense, Eastern's defensive unit made a name for itself.

"We wanted to prove a point, that we had a defense, too," said Eastern tackle Rickie Rhodes. "We've been here all week long and they never mentioned our defense once on the TV news. Only Lehigh's. Now they know."

Indeed, Eastern limited Lehigh to 204 yards, equally divided between ground and air. Lehigh's only points came in the second period on a one-yard run by fullback Bob Romeo which cut Eastern's margin to 14-7 at halftime. It proved to be as close as Lehigh would get.

"Yeah, I was surprised," Kidd admitted after the game. "I thought we'd have to throw more."

In fact, quarterback Bill Hughes passed only five times, completing one.

Patton, for one, wasn't too shocked by the effectiveness of the ground game.

"We move the ball on everybody," said Patton, who ran for 121 yards in 21 carries. "I felt we had the best offense in the country. We've just got too many players — runners, receivers, linemen."

Eastern set the tone for the game on its first possession, using 20 plays and 10 minutes of the first period to drive 70 yards for its first score. Hughes got that touchdown on a one-yard run.

Yeast got the second period touchdown on a one-yard run and Patton barged in from the two in the third period to salt away Eastern's win.

Patton led Eastern's overland contingent with 121 yards in 21 carries while Miller added 81 yards in 23 carries.

Eastern finished the afternoon's scoring in the fourth period on a 29-yard field goal by David Flores and a 14-yard run by Anthony Braxton.

UK Win Showed Return Of Senior Guard Shidler

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 69-58 upset of previously unbeaten and top-ranked Indiana was a return to yesteryear for senior guard Jay Shidler.

He reached back three years to his days as "The Blond Bomber," a nickname inspired by his then-bleached hair and penchant for long-range rockets. In a memorable outing in 1976, he scored 20 points as Kentucky dumped Indiana 66-51.

Shidler, whose hair has now returned to its natural dark hue, encoored Saturday night with five baskets — none shorter than 15 feet — to help bomb the Hoosiers into submission once again.

"I thought the two outstanding individual things for Kentucky were Shidler's outside shooting and the way (senior guard Kyle) Macy took over the game when the score was in the 40s," said Hoosier Coach Bobby Knight. "Shidler is a great outside shooter. He hit three late in the first half and got another bucket at the start of the second half."

"Jay played a great game tonight," said Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall. "He played a real fine ballgame."

The victory was Kentucky's seventh in a row since an opening loss to Duke-Indiana dropped to 4-1. The Wildcats begin Southeastern Conference play tonight against Georgia in Atlanta and Hall said, "We're not going to get complacent."

"We did a lot of things wrong that got us behind early and we need to improve in that respect, but I think our players realize they can be a good ballclub if they continue to work and improve," he said.

"We've got too tough of a game Monday to be celebrating too much."

Shidler, who totaled 11 points on the night, said the Wildcats were "stymied for awhile" by the Hoosier defense.

Of his shooting heroics, Shidler said, "We tried working on it in practice — trying to fan the ball out when we got it inside — and I just happened to be open at the time."

Lady Racers Finish Fifth In Tournament

Murray State's Lady Racers took two victories Saturday to nail down fifth-place in the UT-Martin double-elimination Christmas Tournament.

In the early afternoon game the Racers downed Arkansas-Little Rock 79-61. The Lady Racers came back in the nightcap, with just a few hours rest, to beat New Orleans 110-74 recording the highest point total this season for the MSU team.

Laura Lynn paced the scoring attack in the first game dropping in 16 points followed by Bridgette Wyche 13, Janice McCracken 10, Diane Oakley 8, Kim Morris 8, Jeannette Rowan 6, Lisa Lamar 6, Marla Kelsch 4 and Barbara Herndon 2.

The Lady Racers hit fifty percent from the field and outscored Arkansas 50-28.

Wyche ripped the nets for 30 points in the second game and was aided in scoring by Lamar with 23, Lynn 12, Oakley 12, McCracken 11, Morris 7, Daphne Garnett 7, Herndon 4 and Diane Queen 4.

The tournament closed out the pre-holiday schedule for the Lady Racers who own a 6-4 mark. Their next game will be when they travel to Louisville on Jan. 3, 1980.

For joy and good cheer!

A MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS
TO ALL.

The DECA Chapter Murray Voc. School

Wishes to thank the businesses and people for their help and support, and wish a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.

Third grade students at Carter Elementary school recently completed the 4-H Food Project "Let's Begin Cooking."

Gregory Gilbert was named winner of the Carter 3rd grade 4-H Food Fair. Thirty seven members of the class brought peanut butter cookies to be judged.

Four Competing In Hybrid Corn Yield Contest

William N. Carraway, William J. Gargus and Joe B. Fridy, all of Murray, and Jimmy J. Hale, Kirksey, have entered Ring Around's hybrid corn yield contest, "Operatin Ringout."

All four men have planted RA 1501. Carraway obtained a yield of 206; Gargus, 204; Hale, 200; and Fridy, 125.

Each is competing for an all-expense paid trip for two to Acapulco, Mexico.

Third Grade Classes Complete Six-Week Study On Nutrition

The third grade classes of Mrs. Wildy and Mrs. Dunn at Carter School recently completed a six week study of proper nutrition. Based on the 4-H project "Let's Begin Cooking," the third graders learned the value of proper nutrition. A 4-H Food Fair was held. These students who brought peanut butter cookies had their cookies judged and received either a blue ribbon or a red ribbon.

The last meeting featured a tasting party for members of the class. The students brought nutritious dishes and lunch was served.

Members of the classes are: Cosandra Allen, Tony Atkins, Kim Bandarra, Nathan Clark, Jennifer Collins, Shea Ellis,

Chip Farmer, Gregory Gilbert, Heather Hogood, Chris Hays, Brad King, April Lane, Scott McDougal, Mike McNutt, Holly Nix, Michelle Rogers, Todd Seargent, Mary Smiley, Bruce Thurman, Derek Tomer, Stacy Walker, Sonny Warner, Marcie Willett, Beverly Young, Shane Adams, Lance Allison, Stephanie Barnett, Greg Bennett, Meredith Howe, Michael Hopkins, Candace Johnson, Darren Jones, Kenneth Myers, Shea Noonan, James T. Plans For 1980 Barrow Show To Be Scheduled For Feb 4-6, 1980

Officials of the Louisville Barrow Show have announced that plans for the 1980 event are rapidly being formalized and entry catalogs will be available in December. Co-Managers Dennis Liptrap and M.D. Whiteker confirmed that entry catalogs will be available to swine breeders during December. Entry deadline for the big show will be January 12, 1980.

The Louisville Barrow Show will be held at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center in Louisville, February 4-6, 1980. More than 600 animals are expected to compete, a number which will continue the show's steady growth.

The barrow portion of the Louisville Barrow Show includes eight breed classes and one crossbred class. There is also a truckload (6 market hogs) competition.

According to Drs. Whiteker and Liptrap, other events will transpire which are also of significance to the swine industry. Prominent among those activities will be breeding stock shows and sales featuring fall farrowed boars and gilts of eight purebred breeds: Berkshire, Spotted, Duroc, Chester White, Yorkshire, Landrace, Poland China and Hampshire.

Youth also play an important part in the Barrow Show when they compete, both as teams and as individuals, in judging contests. FFA and 4-H members are extremely active in the judging events, and they compete under the auspices of rules which are used in National FFA and 4-H competition.

Entry catalogs and more detailed information pertaining to all facets of the Louisville Barrow Show can be obtained during December by contacting: Dennis Liptrap or M.D. Whiteker, Room 608, Animal Science Building - South, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky. 40546, 606-258-4671.

Station Managers Agree Gasohol Better For Cars

By NANCY SHULINS
Associated Press Writer

Business is booming at the Miles Farm Supply service station in Masonville, Ky., where attendants are pumping 3,000 gallons of gasohol a week into customers' tanks.

But 50 miles away, the Madisonville Sun Mart has discontinued sales of gasohol, a mixture of 90 percent unleaded gasoline and 10 percent grain alcohol.

Managers of both stations agree that gasohol is superior fuel. The difference in this tale of two service stations is that one combined sales with a promotional campaign; the other simply sold gasohol.

And despite the publicity the fuel has been getting, the two managers agree that gasohol is a scarce commodity in western Kentucky, where motorists still don't know much about it.

"Everybody has heard of it, but most people really don't understand it," says Sun Mart manager Mike Thomas.

"The higher gasoline goes, the better gasohol is going to be. But nobody's prepared to store it or mix it."

"By the time we stopped selling it, we were paying $2.20 a gallon for the alcohol. If you mix it yourself and you accidentally put in an extra two or three gallons of alcohol, there goes seven bucks."

Thomas says some Sun Mart customers occasionally had problems with stopped-up fuel line filters.

"One of the things about gasohol is that it cleans your fuel system out. All you have to do is replace the filter, and you're all set."

"But all it takes is for one popular fellow to have his car stall, and the word gets out that you've got something bad."

Storage can be another problem, says Jimmy Ray, manager of the Madisonville-based Dugger Oil Co. Sun Mart was its only customer until Dugger recently went out of the gasohol supply business.

"You need a storage tank to put it in, and all we had was a spare truck," Ray says. "And because we only had one dealer selling it, it really wasn't worthwhile."

Why are so west Kentucky stations offering gasohol?

Miles Farm Supply station manager Rex Howard, whose regular customers come from as far away as Ohio County, thinks many stations "are just scared to get involved with it."

"It costs a little more to get started, and some stations are afraid to take the chance."

The Masonville station currently is selling gasohol for $1.04 a gallon, compared to 97.9 cents for regular gasoline.

"But it's doing really well here," says Howard, who says many motorists are making the 14-mile round trip from Owensboro to put gasohol in their tanks.

"One guy comes over from Owensboro every week. He fills up his truck, then turns around, goes home, and comes back with his car."

Howard says customers who fill up at his station are given pamphlets explaining the benefits of gasohol. "If you give out 100 pamphlets, probably 60 of them hit the garbage can," he says.

"But it must be doing some good — close to half of our business is gasohol."

Experts say gasohol has a higher octane rating than conventional gasoline and provides better mileage. They say the fuel also burns cleaner and cooler than gasoline, thereby increasing engine life.

Western Kentucky motorists who have had a hard time finding the gasoline-and-alcohol mixture may soon have better luck.

Both Sun Mart and Dugger Oil say they plan to get back into the gasohol business in the near future.

"We've learned a lot about the importance of promoting it," Thomas says. "The public really needs to be told about what it is."

Jimmy Ray agrees. "We're in the process of trying to get together some information on it, and we're talking to people who've had more experience with it than we have."

"Next time we sell it, we hope to have more dealers lined up, and we'll be a little better qualified to use it," he says.

"I'd really like to see the stuff grow. Anything to stretch a gallon of gas a little further."

Ceremony To Be Held Tuesday

A change-of-command ceremony will take place at 11 a.m. Dec. 18 at the Coast Guard's Tennessee River base at Paris Landing.

Harry W. Sites will relieve James B. Griggs who has been in command since July 24, 1978.

Recent activities by the guard have included dragging operations for a man overboard at the Pickwick Lock and Dam Operation last week. The Tennessee base dispatched an auxiliary vessel.

Officials reported the man was not found.

The guardsmen also helped a crewman suffering from chest pains aboard the tugboat William Pitt to be brought ashore. The crewman, Stephen Bennett, was taken to Henry County Hospital where he was put under observation.

Shah Settles Down On Heavily Guarded Panama Island

By GORDON MOTT
Associated Press Writer

CONTADORA ISLAND, Panama (AP) — Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and his wife settled down on a heavily guarded Panamanian island and the deposed monarch said he hoped to stay. Panamanian officials said they can protect him and Panama from his former subjects.

"I would like to express our deep gratitude for the very generous invitation of the Republic of Panama and President Royo. Since we set foot on this soil, we have felt at home," the shah told a news conference Sunday, a day after arriving from Texas with Empress Farah Diba, a woman Iranian doctor, seven other people, two dogs and a huge amount of luggage.

Asked if he planned to stay in Panama, the sixth nation to receive him since he fled from Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolution in January, the shah said: "This is obviously within our minds because such a surrounding and such hospitality is not very easy to match in very many cases."

He also said he hoped his departure from the United States would help secure the release of the 50 Americans held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran since Nov. 4 by students demanding his return to Iran for trial.

"When we left the United States for this beautiful country, we hoped it would help solve this problem, so let's hope this will help," he said.

Asked about his health following cancer treatments and gallbladder surgery in New York in October and November, the 60-year-old shah said: "We'll have to wait a few weeks but for the time being, much better thank you."

President Aristides Royo appeared at the news conference and said his government agreed to give the shah a home "to contribute to peace in the world."

Another visitor to the shah Sunday was Gen. Omar Torrijos, the Panamanian strongman who White House staff chief Hamilton Jordan got to agree to accept the shah. Torrijos, the former chief of state, now heads the Panamanian national guard.

The shah and his entourage are staying at the larger of two private homes on the 10-acre estate of Gabriel Lewis Galindo, former Panamanian ambassador to the United States who developed Contadora Island as a tourist resort.

About a dozen men stood near the shah as he spoke. They were dressed in civilian clothes and showed no weapons but were assumed to be security guards.

Sources on the island said Panamanian guards armed with automatic weapons also were stationed on the grounds of the estate, that Panamanian gunboats were cruising the waters around the two-square-mile island, and that air traffic officials were making close checks on anyone who wanted to get to Contadora.

The lush, densely-wooded island, one of 100 in the Pearl Islands chain, is known for its white sandy beaches, blue marlin fishing and casino gambling. It has a 150-room resort hotel, about 80 privately owned homes, a small grocery store and roads crossed only by golf carts and the hotel's small open-air buses.

The Secret Years — 1 Early Years of Jesus Are Cloaked In Obscurity

EDITOR'S NOTE — Scripture is generally mute about the 30 years in which Jesus grew to manhood, but ancient non-canonical literature provides some inklings on that period. This first installment of a five-part Christmas series, "The Secret Years," draws on those writings to recount the beginnings of the Christmas story.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Out of the shadows and the uncertainties, his life emerged. It was unknown, except in its consequences. He was reared and lived mostly in obscurity. Yet he gripped the world.

"If I glorify myself," he said, "my glory is nothing."

A curtain of silence surrounds the time of Jesus on earth. Of his 33 years, there are accounts of only three. Nine-tenths of his biography is untold. Yet no other figure looms so great in the world's history.

It is a strange contrast. "The last shall be first," he said, "and the first last." He dwelt as the least of men, in a dim corner of the unmentioned and unnoticed. Yet his name excels every name in the annals of mankind.

Questions cloak the story — whose beginning is called Christmas. Much of it is mystifying. Much is hidden. Yet there are ancient hints and clues to many of the missing elements. From these bits of evidence, along with conditions of the period, it is possible to make out some of the background — to glimpse the secret years of Jesus.

They lasted throughout his childhood and young manhood, until he reached the age of about 30, at the start of his public ministry, when outraged neighbors drove him out of his hometown of Nazareth.

The long, formative stage before then is unrecorded, except in fragmentary intimations. What circumstances shaped him? What influences went into his development? What hard decisions led to his hour of destiny?

The concealed years began at his birth in a hillside cave on the edge of Bethlehem — a dark and draughty limestone cavern used for animals — smelly, littered with offal, crawling with insects.

There, in desperation, a transient peasant couple from Galilee, Joseph and Mary, had taken refuge for the delivery of her son. It was not a pleasant setting, as often pictured, but fraught with discomfort, anxiety and difficulty.

The mother, weak from her labor, sprinkled the infant with salt to toughen his skin, swathed him with strips of cloth to brace his body, and laid him in a chiseled-out pit in the rock floor used as a feed trough.

The date was about 7 B.C. — not A.D. 1, as miscalculated in the modern calendar.

The Roman empire's satrap, Herod the Great, then ruled Israel. Scripture indicates that Jesus was born at least two years, and likely three, before Herod's death, which was in the old Roman year 750, or 4 B.C. Also, Scripture notes that the tax census requiring Joseph to register in Bethlehem took place while Quirinius was Rome's governor of Syria. Modern archaeology has dated his term from 9 B.C. until 6 B.C.

Other evidence, such as St. Luke's statement that Jesus was about 30 when he began his ministry in the 15th year of the reign of the Roman emperor Tiberius, also would put his birth in 7 B.C.

Confidentially, in that year, as determined centuries afterward by astronomical calculations, an extraordinary conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn formed a brilliant sphere low in the evening sky. A "star," says Matthew's gospel, beckoned the Eastern sages, presumably from Persia, on their 1,200-mile journey of perhaps a year or more — in wonder and awe at what had transpired.

Months before they could arrive, however, the elderly woodworker, Joseph, and his youthful wife, Mary, obviously had decided to remain in Bethlehem, a small, dusty hamlet on a wind-swept ridge, rather than return at once to Nazareth. Demeaning insinuations had arisen there about her pregnancy, according to ancient non-canonical accounts, and the couple — almost alone in trusting the holy inception — chose to stay away from that strained hometown atmosphere.

Joseph could work in Bethlehem at his carpentry trade, and manage some sort of shelter, either of handmade clay bricks, or by preparing one of the grottoes along the town plateau, where dwelt many of the am-harez, the common laborers and herdsmen.

Old writings, traced far back into that era, describe Joseph as an aged, hard-working man, a widower when he wed Mary, and her as about 16. The traditions indicate that her sister, Salome, came to help them.

The child, circumcized at the age of 8 days by the village mohel, was called "Yeshua," or Jesus, a common name meaning the "Salvation of Jehovah." By usage, he would be known as Yeshua ben Joseph, Jesus son of Joseph.

As a male child, and Mary's first born, he would take on all the obligations and rights as the future head of the family.

At the end of her 40-day period of purification, as fixed in Mosaic law, the couple took the boy to the Temple in Jerusalem for his dedication to God. Although a lamb and turtle dove were the prescribed offering for a new son, the poor were permitted to offer only two birds instead, as Joseph, a poor man, did.

For more than a year, the couple apparently resided in Bethlehem, with the child almost entirely in his mother's care. Husbands in those days weren't inclined to tend infants. The boy would remain a suckling until he was at least 2.

But sometime before that point the foreign astrologers arrived with their mystic interpretations and their gifts. The visit aroused suspicions of the depraved King Herod, whose fear of plots already had drenched his own household in blood.

He dispatched troops to destroy all Bethlehem nurslings up to the age of 2, a furious onslaught of screaming terror and massacre, yet a not-surprising tactic in that region of oppression and defiance.

Warned beforehand in a dream, Joseph had gathered his family in the night, and had fled southward toward Egypt, taking the boy, whose origins were framed in bewilderment, hardship and violence, into the future desolation of exile.

The mark of the outcast was on him, from the start.

TOMORROW: Fugitives in Egypt.

May every happiness be yours at this Christmas season. Thanks for everything

HEALTH

Hallmark of narcolepsy

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a close relative who has narcolepsy. The doctor decided this after he had had several hospital stays and every conceivable test made on him, including brain waves, spinal taps and the works. I'd like to know something about the disease. The doctor said it wasn't very well known and that they really weren't sure how to treat it but that it was possibly caused by hereditary factors.

DEAR READER — Narcolepsy is an interesting disease. These people fall asleep rather easily. The periods of sleep are quite short, so frequent short episodes of falling asleep are the hallmark of narcolepsy. This is to be distinguished from hypersomnia which means just prolonged excessive sleep. For example, sleeping 14 hours continuously. Another important aspect of narcolepsy is that patients with this problem often have additional findings. They may lose control of their muscles and fall to the floor when they start laughing. This isn't a convulsion but really a paralysis of the muscles. They may also have hallucinations just at the time they start to go to sleep.

It's true that we do not know what causes it and some cases are difficult to treat, although a number of medicines are available that do help in many cases. An individual who has such a problem obviously should not be driving an automobile or involved in occupations that require constant attention. I don't think you need to worry about developing this problem yourself. But because you're interested in sleep, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 10-6. Sleep and Insomnia. Other readers who are interested in sleep problems can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for this issue. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 34-year-old man and have a chin and neck of a 60-year-old man. I am a few pounds overweight but no more than 10 or 15, yet my chin and neck look like someone twice my age. My neck is so wrinkled and my jaw has a bulldog look. Are there any exercises I can do to tighten the skin in these areas?

DEAR READER — It's hard to describe it but you can experiment until you see what I mean. Jut your lower jaw out and act like you are clenching it in a stiff position. You can pull on muscles that are underneath the jaw. We call this the platysma muscle. It's not always well developed and there is a lot of individual variation in it. It's really part of the facial muscle that runs under the neck area. You can see cords of muscles stand out in the neck sometimes when you tense them.

You might want to strengthen these muscles and that might help a little bit but I'm doubtful that it will solve your problem. Usually when a person has quite a bit of excess skin, there's only one way to get rid of it and that's a surgical approach. A plastic surgeon who does cosmetic work can do this and give you a good clean-cut jaw and neckline. If there's excess fat in this area, he can remove that, too. I should add that if you eat too much and allow yourself to be overweight.

OLD COSTUMES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The exhibition "Renaissance Costumes and Textiles: 1450-1620" is on view at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art through Jan. 27, 1980.

The show contains some 60 items, including costumes, textiles, lace, church vestments, jewelry, paintings, woodcuts, manuscripts and books of costume.

Four UK Grid Players To Be Arraigned On Theft Charges

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Four University of Kentucky students, including three members of the Wildcat football team, are expected to be arraigned this week on charges related to the alleged theft of football equipment Dec. 9.

Charged with third-degree burglary were Roy "Mickey" Cochran of Owenton, who was a starting freshman offensive tackle this season; freshman offensive lineman Paul Bortnick of Euclid, Ohio, and walk-on defensive back Benny Naples of Hubbard, Ohio.

A coed, Susan Bennett, was charged with knowingly receiving stolen property.

Cochran, Bortnick and Ms. Bennett were released without bail Friday night from the Metro Detention Center to the custody of the dean of students' office, according to jail records. Naples was released on his own recognizance.

Tom Padgett, UK director of public safety, said the players allegedly stole the equipment after breaking into the Shively Sports Center.

The incident was reported after someone in the athletics department "discovered some things were missing," Padgett said.

An investigation then led officers to Ms. Bennett's off-campus apartment, where the equipment was recovered, he said.

The equipment included football shoes, jerseys and pants valued at more than $100. An inventory would be conducted to determine their exact value, Padgett said.

"It (the burglary charge) sounds more ominous than it really is," Padgett said in an interview, "but we really had no option but to proceed with the arrests."

"We checked with the prosecutor's office and it (the value of the equipment) was over $100. We really had no choice," he said.

Brazil was proclaimed a republic in 1889 when the army revolted against Emperor Pedro II, head of the family of Cobourgo-Braganza which ruled Portugal and Brazil. His father had declared Brazil's independence in 1822, when the Portuguese government tried to reassert its power over the colony it had lost during Napoleon's occupation of the homeland.

Residents Return After Firemen Put Out Tank Fire

TAYLOR, Mich. (AP) — About 5,000 residents returned to their homes after firefighters from six Detroit suburbs extinguished a flash fire at a gasoline storage tank.

The fire raged out of control for nearly 24 hours Saturday and Sunday, sending orange flames and black smoke into the sky and forcing evacuation of nearby residents. It finally was brought under control about 3 a.m. Sunday, authorities said.

Two house trailers were destroyed in the fire, but no serious injuries were reported.

About 4,000 of the evacuees returned home Sunday morning after spending the night with relatives or at a disaster shelter set up at a community center.

Another 1,000 residents of a nearby trailer park were sent home early Sunday night, Taylor police said, after the remaining 800,000 gallons of gasoline were drained from the charred tank.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

International
TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh says the departure of the shah from the United States to Panama has opened the door to a resolution of the U.S.-Iranian crisis, and some of the American hostages may be released before Christmas.

"We will try to do our best to defuse the crisis. I certainly don't want to have this crisis forever," Ghotbzadeh told The Associated Press Sunday evening. It was his most conciliatory comment to date.

He said some of the hostages "possibly" would be released before Christmas and that all those still held by Christmas Day would be visited by foreign observers on the holiday.

CONTADORA ISLAND.
Panama (AP) — Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and his wife settled down on a heavily guarded Panamanian island and the deposed monarch said he hoped to stay. Panamanian officials said they can protect him and Panama from his former subjects.

Asked if he planned to stay in Panama, the sixth nation to receive him since he fled from Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolution in January, the shah said: "This is obviously within our minds because such a surrounding and such hospitality is not very easy to match in very many cases."

National
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans' opinions of Jimmy Carter and Edward M. Kennedy have flipflopped in recent weeks largely because the public believes Carter has handled the Iranian crisis well and Kennedy has reacted to it poorly, an Associated Press-NBC News poll shows.

The changes in public opinion run deeper than just the Iranian crisis. Carter seems to be dispelling some of the questions in the public mind about his competence, while Kennedy has apparently raised some doubts about his own abilities.

These major swings in public opinion come as the battle for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination between Carter, Kennedy and California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. heats up.

Washington
WASHINGTON (AP) — The contest for the 1980 Republican presidential nomination, subdued by the Iranian crisis, has settled into a catch-the-leader pursuit — with Ronald Reagan still setting the pace.

Rivals concede Reagan an early-favorite status but say they hope to chip away at his strength once the primary season opens in earnest.

The major and some of the lesser-known GOP candidates are devoting their energies and funds to heavy campaigning in Iowa, New Hampshire and the other early primary and caucus states — most operating under the theory that they need early, strong showings to capture national attention.

Campaigning has been rather low-key to date, with the stalemate at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran casting a pall over the political landscape.

May your roads be clear
Your fortunes wide,
And those you love
